

LEA THURNER

Lea Thurner was born in Munich and has been a storyteller since she could speak.

She had her first opportunity to turn this passion into a professional context and worked as a copywriter in an advertising agency.

Lea quickly realized that the medium for her stories had to be film and so she studied advertising direction at the Baden- Württemberg Film Academy.

Since then, she has been continuously gaining experience as a director of commercials, short films and music videos in Berlin, Munich and Copenhagen.

She was part of the Hollywood Workshop Master Class at UCLA, where she didn't see a single star on the street for over four weeks and consumed 350 iced coffees.
